About the saddest sound that has ever come to the ears of College football fans was the final whistle yesterday which brought to an end a memorable struggle with the Bearcats in possession of the ball in the shadow of the Graceland goal posts and the wind at their backs. It terminated the game with the Bearcats still four points behind, after an uphill battle in which they had scored three touchdowns. The final score was 23-19.

A strong wind, sweeping over the field from the north, played an important part in the scoring. Graceland captain won the toss and elected to defend the north goal, giving the invaders the advantage of the young tornado that carried their kicks far down the field, while it made ineffectual the efforts of the Bearcats punter.

Graceland put over two touchdowns in the opening quarter. Both were made by Roland Travis, Graceland's plunging fullback.

Changing of goals in the second quarter gave the advantage of the wind to Maryville, and the Bearcat backs plunged and passed and skirted the ends for two touchdowns, while the line held sturdily against the Graceland attacks forcing the invaders to kick against the wind. Both Maryville goal kicks failed, leaving Graceland in the lead, 14-12. Foreman made the first touchdown and Lundt the second.

After bringing the score so near a tie, the Bearcat line gave way before a series of Graceland plunges, Travis repeatedly breaking through for ten and fifteen-yard gains and finally crossing the line for the third Graceland touchdown. Goal was kicked, and

EVANGELIST DENOUNCES SO-CALLED HIGHER CRITICS

Ravenwood Meeting Closes With Fifty-Three Additions—Special Music Tomorrow.

So-called higher critics, more properly termed destructive critics, were given a severe blow by Dr. D. C. Kellems, in his sermon at the First Christian church last night. He declared their thinking only the theological offshoot of Darwinian evolution and both of them results of German rationalism, "and both of them results of German rationalism, and this, everybody knows, was the real cause of the war."

The text of the scripture upon which Evangelist Kellems based his sermon last night was taken from the twentieth chapter of Acts, the twenty-seventh verse, "For I had not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God."

"The Counsel of God is sufficient for man," declared the evangelist. "It will give him the plan of salvation, thereby he may have passed sins forgiven. Not only will it instruct the way to get into the Kingdom but it shows Christians how they may live as faithful workers day by day.

"The whole counsel of God can find a man in the realms of unbelief, give to him Faith, give him convictions of sins, lead him to obedience, make him strong in his Christian life and fit him, finally, for the home over there.

"There is not a word of the counsel given from God that we can call nonessential. Our obedience to Jesus Christ hinges upon our Faith in Him. The real Golden Rule of the Bible is Matthew sixteen, 'Thou are the Christ, the Son of the Living God.' Any person who actually believes that will not fail to obey Jesus and all of his commands."

The sermon subject for tonight will be, "Faith of the Apostles."

The male quartet sang last night and was an interesting feature of the service. The quartet was composed of Professor Humbert, John Mutz, W. E. Goforth and Floyd Lunsford.

The male quartet of evangelistic singers will render a special selection at the services tonight. Great services are expected tomorrow in the revival. The sermon subjects will be: Morning, "All for Christ;" evening, "The Saviour's Great Invitation."

The first invitation of the revival will be extended at the close of the Sunday school period. A large number of conversions are expected tomorrow night. It is predicted by the leaders of the county campaign that more people will be added to the church in Nodaway county tomorrow than on any other one day in the history of the county.

The Ravenwood meeting closed last night with a total of fifty-three additions to the church. Old timers in that church say that this is the greatest meeting with the largest number of conversions ever held in the church there. Rev. S. W. Nay of Kansas City conducted the meeting. Mr. Lunsford, the singer, goes to Barnard today and will join Rev. B. L. Wray of Kansas City in the Barnard meeting tomorrow.

FOURTH GAME OF SERIES POSTPONED

TODAY'S YANKEE-GIANT CLASH, PREVENTED BY RAIN.

WILL PLAY TOMORROW

Huggins Can Pitch Either Mays or Hoyt—Democrat-Forum Will Get Score by Innings.

Rain caused the postponement today of the fourth combat in the series between the New York Giants and Yankees for the world's baseball championship. The game will be played at 2 o'clock Sunday, eastern time, which is noon here.

The score by innings will be received at the Democrat-Forum office as usual.

The series now stands two games for the Yankees and one for the Giants. After yesterday's 13-5 slugfest, won by the Giants, fans are anxiously waiting to see whether the National League champions have waked up from their forty-eight hour or whether they won by accident. Tomorrow's game will be played under the same conditions as today's game would have been.

Babe Ruth, the Yankee's home run king, is said to be suffering with an abcess on his left arm, which his physician said would undoubtedly keep him out of the game tomorrow and prevent him from playing for several days.

Manager Huggins will have Mays to send against the Giants again tomorrow. Mays won the first game of the series, shutting out the National Leaguers without a run. Waite Hoyt, the Boy Scout twirler, who pitched a two-hit game Friday, should also be ready to come back if necessary.

After all, the only cure for unemployment is employment.

At this time it looks like a safe bet that New York will win the baseball series.

If some people kept their brains as well manicured as their nails, they might be able to scratch up something worthwhile in this life.

An exchange says a woman will go to the dressmakers a dozen times to see how her dress is coming but how many go to the school house to see how their children are coming on?

The substance of the elaborate conclusion reached in the case of Senator Newberry by his fellow senators is that a great wrong was done. It was done by money and money should be more circumspect in the future. Mr. Newberry will continue to occupy his seat in the senate and will probably endeavor to see that the recommendations are observed in future in the state of Michigan at least.

Next Week At the Movies

At The Empire

A delightful picture in every respect, "Straight is the Way" will be shown Monday and Tuesday. It is a picturization of Ethel Watts Mumford's excellent story, "The Manifestation of Henry Ort." It is a satirical comedy based upon the ouija board craze and the story is one of mystery, thrills and love.

While "Straight is the Way" is a socalled crook picture, the crook element is so lightly done that there is nothing at all melodramic or depressing in the picture. It fairly sparkles from beginning to end and its humor at times is delicious. The elading roles are in the capable hands of Matt Moore and George Parsons, the crooks who reform, Gladys Leslie, a charming actress who plays opposite Matt Moore and Mabel Bert, who has the role of Aunt Mehitable, a charming old widow. The picture was directed by Albert G. Vignola.

Constance Talmadge in her latest production from the pen of John Emerson and Anita Loos, will be seen for the first time locally when "The Love Expert," is thrown on the screen Wednesday and Thursday.

As the central thought for this picture, the clever authors have provided the theme that whereas this is an age of specialization, what would be more natural for a young romantic girl to try to become expert at love. Thus we find Constance Talmadge, in the role of Babs, a boarding school girl whose school days end before the senior year thanks to her delinquencies in the elementary courses and her mania for self-instruction in the science of the heart.

Emerson and Loos have given the screen many bright pictures but "The Love Expert," is declared to have excelled all previous efforts.

Novel entertainment is offered in "The Call of Youth," the picturization of Henry Arthur Jones' play, "James the Fogy," which will be shown Friday and Saturday nights. This picture was made by the Famous Players- Lasky British Producers at their new studio near London and is the first product to be shown in America. Demonstrating as it does what an American film company can do with English locations, with an English story interpreted by English players, it is a momentous production. The plot centers around a middle-aged lover whose autumnal romance is frustrated by "the call of youth," and the characters show the master touch of Mr. Jones in every scene. Hugh Ford, an American, was the director.

At The Electric

Vitagraph's screen version of "The Heart of Maryland" will be the attraction at the Electric theater on Monday and Tuesday. The picturization of David Belasco's famou play has a great advantage over the original stage presentation in that th majority of scenes are taken on authentic locations. This gives the film a historic value and makes it replete with stirring situations that no stage could present. Tom Terriss, famed as a director of big spectacular productions, took the entire cast, headed by Catherine Calvert, into the heart of Maryland and used such sites as the famous old mansion where Jefferson Davis was married and where many great balls were given in honor of Henry Clay. The house that served as General Grant's headquarters during the war, known as The Briars; the old chapel where a famous traitor was tried and the site of one of the famous battles of the Civil War were all used as locations in filming this magnificent production.

"The Last Card," which will be shown on Wednesday and Thursday, has several features about it which make it stand out distinctively from the average type of picture.

It is a Bayard Veiller production, perosnally directed by the famous author of "Within the Law," it was adapted from "Dated," the story by Maxwell Smith, which created such a sensation when it appeared in the covers of the Saturday Evening Post; and last but not least, it is a picture with May Allison in the stellar role.

All these elements go to make it a splendid picture, and critics in other cities have already voiced their praises. As Elsie Kirkwood, May Allison has a part well fitted to her histrionic power. Elsie is called on to solve a harrowing murder for which her husband is put in jail, and in some occult way she seizes on the woman next door as the person whose action had an influence on the murder.

"The Secret of the Hills" which will be shown Friday night is a story of action, mystery and buried treasure. It furnishes Antonio Moreno with a role in which he is forced to fight his way every inch of the film. He displays athletic prowess and quick wit in every scene. A Chinese orchestra, Mongolian magician, London fog, Scotch houses and wonderful natural cave are some of the spectacular features in the production.

Playgoers who like Carmel Myers, in unusual roles will be delighted with the star as she appears in "The Kiss," her latest Universal photodrama, to be shown Saturday night.

The story presents her as Little Erolinda, the characterization made famous by Johnston McCulley in his widely read story of that name, and its theme is based upon the heroic exploits of the early Californians who fought as gallantly as they love.

Jack Conway, selected by Universal to direct the production, was careful to stage the picture on the actual locale of the original story and for that purpose used many of the old haciendas which links to modern California the romantic traditions of the past.

TIMERS' WHISTLE BEATS BEARCATS

the score was 21-0.

With only a few minutes left before the end of the half Maryville received the kickoff and carried the ball well into Graceland territory before losing it on downs. Pickens then intercepted a Graceland forward pass and raced fifty yards for Maryville's third touchdown. This time Webb kicked goal, and the score stood 21-19.

Graceland again had the advantage of the wind in the third quarter, but all through the period the Bearcat line fought desperately and it ended without a score.

The fourth quarter saw goals changed again, but the wind was beginning to die. The Bearcats began to kicking game, but the punts went wide and they failed to gain much by the new tactics. Graceland carried the ball to the one-yard line, where they were held for downs. A few minutes later, however, the ball was again near the Maryville goal. Put in play by Graceland, the ball was fumbled and recovered by a Maryville man behind the goal line. Referee Lamke called the play a safety and gave the Graceland team two points.

From open formations the Bearcats completed several forward passes and had the ball only a few yards from the Graceland goal, when a fumble was recovered by the defenders. The battle was waged in Graceland during the remaining minutes of the game, but the whistle came too soon.

The spectators were elated over the scoring punch displayed by the Bearcats in the second quarter, as well as by the success of the line in withstanding the battering of the heavier opponents. The team will probably not find an eleven of equal weight in the conference this year, but Coach Sprong is rapidly developing a hard-fighting machine that will win a game or two in spite of its lack of poundage.

One of the outstanding stars of yesterday's game was wee Johnnie Ashcroft, who hardly disturbs the scales at all. His 113 pounds time after time was responsible for piling up a Graceland end run or in hurrying a Graceland forward pass.

Webb's tackling was of sensational variety and his spiking enabled the other backs to get away for gains. The backfield combination—Pickens, Lundt, Webb and Foreman—worked well during most of the game, while Bareley, Graham, Earp, Kirby and Sawyers performed nobly in the line.

The Bearcats were seriously handicapped soon after the start of the game, when Steiger, a star at end and the fastest man on the team, received a broken nose. Webster Young, the other varsity end, had been called to Trenton by the death of his father.

Graceland also lost a valuable man near the start of the game, when Curtis, left tackle, broke his leg.

HAD NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Mrs. Ireland Permits us to Publish this Letter for the Benefit of Others Who Are in Her Condition

Warsaw, Missouri.—"For five years I was weakly, nervous and in a run-down condition. Then I had a nervous breakdown and doctors said I would never be well again. After I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was healthier, stronger, and felt better than I ever did in my life before. I can't praise the Compound enough and will recommend it to all women. You may publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. FLOYD IRELAND, R. R. 1, Warsaw, Missouri.

Nervous women are both ailing and wretched, and with a nervous breakdown all joy goes out of a woman's life. It is said that the ills peculiar to women act on the nerves like a firebrand.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming such conditions, a large number of American women who were once great sufferers from nerve troubles owe their present health and comfort to Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about your health.

CHILLICOTHE WINS FROM HIGH SCHOOL

he said simply.

Questioning finally brought a declaration from him that "the score should not have been that big." Five times Maryfille had the ball within eight yards of a touchdown, but each time the team lacked the necessary punch to put it across the line.

Chillicothe got its first touchdown in the first quarter, when two long forward passes brought the ball near the goal line and line bucks carried it the rest of the way. Despite the fact the Chillicothe was at least ten pounds heavier per man, Maryville kept the ball in Chillicothe territory most of the time until the last quarter, when weight began to tell and the heavier team scored two more touchdowns. One of the scores came when Clark, star halfback for Chillicothe, skirted Maryville's left end for twenty yards. Ellis, playing safety, threw him but failed to keep his holt.

Chillicothe was assessed several penalties, while Maryville had only one and that for offside play.

Fullback O'Banin played a good bame for Maryville. He outpunted Chillicothe all during the game, one of his long kicks going for fifty-five yards. He attempted one drop kick from the thirty yard line at a difficult angle, but missed by a foot.

Maryville completed two forward passes, one from O'Banion to Ogden and the other from Ellis to Carstens, both good for twenty yards.

Masters played well for Maryville, but was handicapped by a bad ankle. Ledgerwood replaced Blagg in the second quarter and Willoughby took Barry's place in the last period.

The next game for the local eleven will be with Tarkio next Saturday. It will be placed here. Not much is known about the Tarkio team except that they defeated Blanchard by a large score.
